Travel Allowance dispute

Members were previously informed that the travel allowance arbitration commenced and that labour finalised presenting its case. The employer closed their case in December 2021 and parties submitted their closing arguments. The CCMA has now issued an award and unfortunately the award is not in favour of labour.

The PSA, together with the attorney who dealt with the arbitration, is currently studying the award and determining if there are grounds to lodge a review application at the Labour Court.

Members will be informed of further developments in due course.

The PSA wants to take this opportunity to wish all employees who are unwell due to the virus a safe and speedy recovery.
